

General Contest Rules

Rules

The pen may only be entered in this contest. It can't be entered in any other IAP contest past, present or future. It can't have been shown anywhere prior to entry in this contest. It may not be shown anywhere during the contest without explicit approval of the contest chair.

You may enter more than one pen in this contest, but any pen entered must comply with the restrictions in the prior paragraph. In simple terms, one contest per pen. All pens submitted must have been made solely by the person submitting them. No team efforts or helping hands allowed.

Any pen determined to not comply with the contest rules and / or the spirit of the contest will not be accepted. This determination will be at the sole discretion of the contest chair.

Contest rules may be amended, clarified, changed, supplemented, deleted or whatever at any time at the sole discretion of the contest chair

To participate in this or any other IAP activity your public profile must contain your real first and last name as well as your place of residence (city & state or equivalent). Please be advised that information contained in the public profile is not viewable by non-members of the IAP. Members who have failed to successfully complete any previous IAP activities, and who have been notified by the Activities Manager of such, are not eligible to participate in any IAP activities.

Contest Details

Contest opens for entry on 8/1/2014 and closes for entry on Monday 8/18/2014 at 10pm South Florida Time. If there are adequate entries, there will be an Eliminator Poll where each member of the IAP will be allowed to choose three pens for advancement to the finals. The top 5 vote getters will be in the Finals Poll. Each member of the IAP will get one vote in the finals poll for their choice of best pen. Ties for the awarding of prizes will be decided based on entry date. The pen entered earliest wins a tie.
