Pierre Bouillot is a French wood turner.

He likes to make pens, spinning tops and all sort of precise turnings.

He is the author of "Les robots", the reference book about French planes.

I would like to thank Pierre for collaborating with me on this article. I must say his hexagon barrels look better than mine. Great job with your hexagon barrels and nicely done explaining your process. Thanks again.
